GOLD AND SILVER WEDDINGS

Royal Gatherings and Postivities at Saxe Weimar and Athens This Week. Emperor William's Condition.

LONDON, Oct. L .- The conservatives are boiling with rage at the decision of the government to abandon Uganda, and they propose to make a stiff fight on the question in parliament. They claim that Mr. Gladstone and Lord Roseberry are actuated by a desire to injure the East Africa company because that company is largely composed of adherents of Lord Salisbury. and they predict that the abandonment of Uganda will be the first step toward a general withdrawal of government protection from the colonies in that vicinity. It is known that both the French govern-ment and the Congo free states are anxious to some Uganda as soon as the British withdraw from it, and the French missionaries are expected to raise a cry for French interference in their behalf whenever Captain Lagard and his force depart from the country. As Uganda is considered the most desirable region in Central Africa the loss of that kindom will be a serious blow to the interests of the East African company, which is not in a flourishing condition under present circumstances.

Great Royal Gathering. On the continent the royalty is preparing to celebrate two grand festivals this month. On next Wednesday the Grand Duke and the Grand Duchess of Saxe-Weimar will entertain at their golden wedding the Grand Duke and the Grand Duchess of Baden, the King and Queen of Saxony, and representatives of all the smaller German states. The emperor may return from his shooting box, Rominten, in East Prussia, to attend the festivities. Three months ago the Czar indicated that he might be present; but in view of the strained relations between him and the emperor this plan has been given up. The Grand Duke Visdimir will probably represent the St. Petersburg court. The celebration will hast several days. The king and queen of Greece will hold their silver wedding at Athens three weeks later. This will not be such an elaborate function as the Weimar affair. Among the guests will be the king and queen of Den-rrark, parents of the king of Greece. There will be a national demonstration in Athens, a city exhibition, illuminations and fireworks.
